4. Minutes of the Meeting held on 25th June 2014 (previously circulated and available at the meeting)

The minutes were agreed and signed as a true record.

5. Matters arising from the minutes

There were no further matters arising not covered elsewhere on the agenda

6. Letter from Lord Nash (previously circulated and available at the meeting)

Paddy O'Dwyer explained that this letter had been published in January and forwarded to Harrow SACRE by NASACRE. It highlights the importance of high quality RE teaching and the role of SACRE in promoting this.

The member representing humanism expressed her disappointment that it does not mention non-religious philosophies.

Quality of RE Teaching

The letter reflects the broader expectations about the quality of teaching of RE. It stresses the importance of academic rigor: this is a pertinent consideration when formulating the Agreed Syllabus. The letter was written as a response to events at certain schools in Birmingham, but does not mention governance as a means of ensuring effective teaching of RE. This is somewhat surprising, given that the issues in Birmingham were largely connected to the governance of the schools concerned. The letter is very positive about the role of SACRE and this is encouraging at a time when members might feel that SACRE's role has diminished.

"British Values"

There was some discussion about the decline in the quality of teaching RE and its marginalisation in the curriculum. The teaching of "British values" is now emphasised but it is unclear exactly what is meant by this. A member of the Jewish community informed members that the Board of deputies has issued some excellent guidance on the subject. Many of the precepts of British Values already form part of the curriculum for Citizenship or SMSC (Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural) Education. A Church of England member commented that it is a question of making explicit what is already in place. Paddy O'Dwyer confirmed this explaining that schools are carrying out audits to show where British Values occur in different areas of the curriculum. He added that Ofsted is struggling with the inspection of British Values. It is important that the School Council and Pupil Voice reflect these values. A member from the Teaching Associations added that assemblies are another important way of covering some aspects, for instance, democracy, voting, respect and tolerance. Some schools in rural areas have been criticised for not promoting British values. British Values are also included in the standards used for assessing NQTs (Newly Qualified Teachers).

7. Harrow SACRE Annual Report (previously circulated and available at the meeting)

9. SACRE's commissioned programme of RE CPD to improve Quality of RE Teaching and Effectiveness of Subject Leadership

SACRE will continue to support teachers in building schemes of work and in training, monitoring and evaluation. There is a conference for RE Leaders in Reading (Berkshire) run by the St Gabriel's Group which is based in Oxford.

10. AOB

- YOM Hashoah, 15th April 8-10pm, Pinner Synagogue: details of this event have already been circulated by email. Gill Ross encouraged members to attend this important occasion. The date coincides with the anniversary of the Warsaw uprising and the event commemorates the 70th anniversary of the Liberation. The deadline for reply has been extended, but members who wish to attend should give advance warning to the organizers because of security

- RE Conference in Birmingham: Manju Radia has attended a conference in Birmingham. Her school was invited to present a workshop on how they worked towards the Gold Mark Award. She felt very privileged to represent Harrow in this context. Members congratulated Manju Radia on this achievement. Paddy O'Dwyer asked her if she would write a report for next year's annual report. Manju Radia agreed to do this.

Action: Manju Radia

- Harrow Governors' Conference: a member suggested that Harrow SACRE might approach the organisers of the Harrow Governors' Conference to see if they would agree to include a SACRE slot. The theme this year is Safeguarding. The Chair agreed to make an approach.

Action: Chair

- Celebration of 80 years of Edgware Reformed Synagogue: Matthew Stone reported that he had attended the 80th Anniversary Celebration of Edgware Reformed Synagogue.

- Limmud: Gill Ross reported that attendance at this Jewish festival of learning has doubled this year, when over 1000 people attended 80 different presentations.

- Harrow Mosque: Zafar Khalid reported on a successful session held at the Harrow Mosque. Called “I’m not ISIS” it was attended by 12-13 councillors and others. It was covered by the BBC and other media. Other events will be held at the Mosque. There is one on Islamophobia on 29th March. Zafar Khalid will keep the Chair informed of future events.

Action: Zafar Khalid

- 3FF: Julie Crow has been contacted by an organisation called 3FF (Three Faiths Forum). This organisation works to build good relationships between people of different faiths, beliefs and cultures. Among its other activities it holds education workshops in schools. It is appealing for speakers from the Christian, Hindu and Buddhist faith traditions to take part. Further details can be found on its website: www.3FF.org.uk. Manju Karia has had experience of their workshops. She would recommend them but added that schools need to control how they manage the links.
- Guidance on Religious Festivals: this guidance and list of festivals is one of the most valued services that Harrow SACRE provides to schools. It helps Head Teachers to decide how much leave can be taken for different religious festivals. Paddy O’Dwyer would like to update the list for the next school year and appealed to members of the different faith communities to send him details of their major festivals. The Chair and the Clerk will look out the previous list and he will circulate this to provide a starting point.

Action: Clerk, Chair and Paddy O’Dwyer
Members from the religious traditions

Mary Abbott added that the advice from SACRE and the PE advisors on jewellery is also very useful.
