

The Community Safety Partnership Plan priorities will support the Safer Harrow Partnership objective to become the safest borough in London.

Background

The Safer Harrow Partnership (CDRP) is committed to working together to make Harrow a safer place to live, work and visit.

Crime, disorder, drugs and anti-social behaviour can have a significant impact on the lives of our residents. Historically in Harrow there has been a wide gap between residents' perceptions of crime and the police crime statistics. Harrow is a low crime borough and for each of the last three years has contributed less than 2% of London's overall total crime rate. Harrow has had either the lowest or second lowest crime rate in London during this time (based upon crimes per 1000 of the population) and is also below the national average.

Main priority crimes such as Robbery, Burglary, Car Crime and Assaults have either reduced dramatically or remained stable during the 2005-2008 Crime and Drugs Reduction Strategy period. Encouragingly, public perceptions have also improved significantly during this period with the level of crime no longer being the top priority for improvement although it remains the most important issue for residents in terms of importance. Although reducing crime and anti-social behaviour remains a top priority of the public, together with clean streets, the effect of crime on peoples lives has reduced, residents recognise that crime levels are decreasing, although perceptions remain a key issue. According to the responses to the annual MORI survey suite of questions, residents recognise that crime levels are reducing, although perceptions remain a key issue, residents feel safer in their neighbourhood, in their home and after dark. Perceptions of anti social behaviour have reduced significantly with the only increase being rubbish and litter

Safer Neighbourhoods Policing Reassurance Teams and Safer Transport Teams are fully operational, working with the Council and partners to reduce crime, improve the street scene and provide greater reassurance to the public. Moreover, new partnership initiatives such as 'Weeks of Action' are making an immediate impact on crime and the street scene as well as improving resident perceptions of quality of life.

From 1 August the legislative framework for Crime and Disorder Reduction Partnerships (CDRPs) in England changed. From this date, the previous duties of CDRPs to produce audits and strategies every three years is replaced by a strategic assessment and partnership plan complying with regulations known as 'minimum standards' to reflect the minimum requirements for an effective CDRP. This is the first assessment under the new minimum standards by the Safer Harrow Partnership. These require that each CDRP shall have an agreed process for sharing information held by partners; produce a strategic assessment (using that information) of the issues affecting the local area, make decisions about what the priorities ought to be based on this assessment; produce a plan which explains how those priorities will be delivered and have a dialogue with communities to both inform these processes and explain the outcomes. The assessment must be undertaken at least once a year and will serve to refresh the priorities annually over a three year period.

To support the future development of the strategic assessment, a duty to share certain sets of de-personalised information between relevant authorities has also been introduced. The information sharing regulations require that information from police, fire and rescue authorities, Primary Care Trusts and local authorities are shared on at least a quarterly basis. The interval is specified in this way to give these authorities the flexibility to continue any existing arrangements to share more frequently while at the same time ensuring a minimum requirement for quarterly data sharing is met by all partners. This will ensure that all partnerships have at least the minimum information necessary to identify priorities, map trends and patterns in crime and disorder and manage their performance.

The review of s17 Crime and Disorder Act also formally extends the remit of CDRPs to include the tackling of alcohol and other substances as well as drugs and the reduction of anti-social behaviour and other behaviour adversely affecting the environment. Practically speaking we have a duty of care as Harrow employees to ensure that we do all that is reasonable to keep Harrow safe from crime and disorder – very similar duty to Health and Safety and Equalities legislation, and the strategic assessment will serve to provide the evidence base for future decision taking. It must be emphasised that this Strategic Assessment is not intended to be a one off exercise and will require continual updating to support the intelligence led business process of the Safer Harrow Partnership and delivery groups responsible for crime and drugs reduction priorities. Over time the assessment will improve, involving further partners and improved data sharing to support this work.
