

Statutory Proposals for Middle Schools

The statutory proposals are to lower the lower age limit and lower the upper age limit for the middle schools. This will establish junior schools. The individual school proposals are outlined as follows:

Cannon Lane Middle School

- Cannon Lane Middle School becomes Cannon Lane Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Elmgrove Middle School

- Elmgrove Middle School becomes Elmgrove Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 82 per year and capacity for 328 pupils.
- The Junior School will continue to have specialist provision for children with physical impairment.

Grange Middle School

- Grange Middle School becomes Grange Junior School, a two-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 60 per year and capacity for 240 pupils.

Kenmore Park Middle School

- Kenmore Park Middle School becomes Kenmore Park Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Longfield Middle School

- Longfield Middle School becomes Longfield Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Pinner Park Middle School

- Pinner Park Middle School becomes Pinner Park Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Priestmead Middle School

- Priestmead Middle School becomes Priestmead Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year (a reduction of three from the current 93) and capacity for 360 pupils.
- The School will have a shared Special Educational Needs base with Priestmead Infant School for children with autistic spectrum disorders.

Roxbourne Middle School

- Roxbourne Middle School becomes Roxbourne Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Roxeth Manor Middle School

- Roxeth Manor Middle School becomes Roxeth Manor Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7– 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Note: Cabinet are considering statutory proposals to combine Roxeth Manor First School and Roxeth Manor Middle School at their meeting on 15 January 2009. If Cabinet agrees the statutory proposals that will effect the combining of the schools, this proposal will not be applicable and reference should be made to Annexe 2iii.

Stag Lane Middle School

- Stag Lane Middle School becomes Stag Lane Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Stanburn Middle School

- Stanburn Middle School becomes Stanburn Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Weald Middle School

- Weald Middle School becomes Weald Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.

Welldon Park Middle School

- Welldon Park Middle School becomes Welldon Park Junior School, a two-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 60 per year and capacity for 240 pupils.

Whitchurch Middle School

- Whitchurch Middle School becomes Whitchurch Junior School, a three-form entry school for children aged 7 – 11.
- The Junior School would have a planned admission number of 90 per year and capacity for 360 pupils.